POWER OF MUSICK.

ACT the FIRST.

RECITATIVE. Mr. BEARD.

WASat the Royal Feast, for Persia won,
By Philip's warlike Son:
Alost in awful State,
The God-like Heroe sate
On his Imperial Throne:

His valiant Peers were plac'd around;
Their Brows with Roses and with Myrtles bound.
So shou'd Desert in Arms be crown'd.
The lovely Thais by his Side
Sate like a blooming Eastern Bride,
In Flow'r of Youth, and Beauty's Pride.

RECITATIVE.

Timotheus plac'd on high,
Amid the tuneful Quire,
With flying Fingers touch'd the Lyre:
The trembling Notes ascend the Sky:
And heav'nly Joys inspire.

RECITATIVE accompany'd.

The Song began from Jove,
Who left his blissful Seats above;
(Such is the Pow'r of mighty Love)
A Dragon's fiery Form bely'd the God;
Sublime, on radiant Spires he rode,
When he to fair Olympia press'd,
And while he fought her snowy Breast:
Then, round her slender Waste he curl'd,
And stamp'd an Image of Himself, a Sov'reign of the World.

CHORUS.

The list ning Crowd admire the lofty Sound, A present Deity! they shout around; A present Deity! the vaulted Roofs rebound.

With ravish'd Ears
The Monarch hears;
Assumes the God,
Affects the Nod:
And seems to shake the Spheres.

RECITATIVE. Mr. BEARD.

The Praise of Bacchus, then, the sweet Musician fung:

Of Bacchus, ever Fair, and ever Young:
The jolly God in Triumph comes;
Sound the Trumpets, beat the Drums:
Flush'd with a purple Grace,
He shews his honest Face;

Now give the Hautboys Breath; He comes! he comes!

AIR. Mr. WASS.

Bacchus, ever Fair, and Young,
Drinking Joys did first ordain;
Bacchus' Blessings are a Treasure,
Drinking is the Soldier's Pleasure:

Sweet the Pleasure;
Sweet is Pleasure after Pain.

Sooth'd with the Sound, the King grew vain;
Fought all his Battles o'er again;
And thrice he routed all his Foes, and thrice he

The Master saw the Madness rise.

And while he Heav'n and Earth defy'd,

Deserted at his utmost Need, By those his former Bounty fed, On the bare Earth expos'd he lies, Without a Friend to close his Eyes.

With downcast Looks the joyless Victor sate, Revolving in his alter'd Soul, The various Turns of Chance below, And, now and then a Sigh he stole, And Tears began to flow.

An Account of the Rife, Progress and State of the HOSPITAL, for relieving poor People afflicted with the SMALL-POX, and for INOCULATION.

HIS HOSPITAL was inftituted in the Rife.
Year 1746, supported by a Subscription then made by several Noblemen, Ladies, and Gentlemen, who were desirous that a Charity useful in itself, and so beneficial to the Public, might be begun near this Great Menot being any Hospital of this Kind in tropolis, there not being any Hospital of this Kind in Europe.

THE Relief of the Necessitous under that severe, nauseous, and frequent Distemper, The SMALL-POX, is a Work of Charity so evidently attended with many beneficial Circumstances, as well to the Public as to the unhappy Objects, that it is in reality not a little strange, that the establishing a Fund for such a Charity should be a Design of no longer standing.

It is univerfally agreed, that amongst all Distempers, to which Providence has made the Human Body liable, there is none so afflicting, so alarming, or which demands such careful, speedy, and continual Assistance, as the SMALL-POX; to which the inferior Sort of People are at least equally liable with those in a higher Sphere of Life, though utterly unable to support themselves under so dreadful a Malady, or to procure the necessary Means for their Recovery.

As this Disease is so frightful, even in its first Appearance, and at the same time contagious, and almost inevitable, Families of all Degrees are thrown into the utmost Consusion, when it invades any Person amongst them, let his or her Station be what it will. To keep a Servant in such a Condition, is, generally speaking, exceedingly inconvenient: To thrust them out of Doors under such Circumstances, always inhuman, commonly fatal. How agreeable, therefore, must the Information prove to all considerate and charitable Persons, that for removing of these Dissiculties, for securing private Families, and for the Preservation of the wretched Individuals labouring under this Disease, there is already established,

An HOSPITAL for the SMALL-Pox.

Where, Persons of both Sexes, and of all Ages, may be carefully provided for, both as to Physic and Diet, and properly attended in that calamitous Condition; and this at a very easy Expence to the Governors, who by their charitable Contributions support the Fund for so glorious, and so compassionate an Undertaking, which, only to mention, is to recommend. A needless Pomp of Words would rather obscure, than illustrate this Design; the Utility and Humanity of which, all, who have the smallest Attention, or Tenderness, cannot fail to comprehend.

As what has been faid fufficiently shews, how well-adapted a Charity this is, in respect to such as are afflicted with this Disease in the Natural Way; so the other Part of the Scheme, which has a Tendency to preserve our Species from the Ravages of this infectious Malady, by rendering it less malignant and less destructive, in the Way of INOCULATION, deserves likewise public Approbation and effectual Encouragement.

THE Objections that have been made against this Practice, are sounded rather in an Aversion to Novelty, however useful, than in an Adherence to Reason and Experience. The strange Imputation that a well-established Method of preserving many Lives, is an Attempt upon the Prerogative of the Almighty, will make no Impression upon any, who consider that the same Thing may be urged against exhibiting Medicines at all, either sanative or preventive, and the extraordinary Methods that are often necessary to be made use of, to stop the Progress of any particular Disease.

THE Benefits of INOCULATION appear every Year, by fresh Trials, greater and more certain. This dreadful, this destructive structive Distemper is thereby rendered mild and manageable, and becomes rather a Purgation of the Body from the latent Seeds of an expected Disease, than creating a Disease it self. It delivers People from those Apprehensions, with which, till they have had the SMALL-POX, they are always haunted. It frees them from the Objections, that are continually made to their being received into any Family, while they remain exposed to that Disease in the Natural Way. It gives them Courage to enter into the Service of their Country, either by Land or Sea; and protects them, while in that Service, from the Risque of being carried off, for Want of those Accommodations, which Camps and Ships rarely fupply.

y e To all these, if we add the general and great Consideration of preserving so many Lives, which may evidently arise from these different Ways of having the Disease, (for upon a general Calculation, 25 or 30 die out of 150 Patients, having the Distemper in the Natural Way, and one only out of this Number, when INOCULATED,) it will appear, that this is a Thing of very high Importance; and that it is not easy to name an Undertaking more laudable in itself, or more beneficial in its Consequences, than the making a Provision, that those, who really stand in the greatest Need of this Preservative, and yet from their low, though useful Stations in Life, are precluded from it, should be rescued from a Condition, equally injurious to them and to Society.

But as the World will be often divided in Sentiments, in Matters of such a Nature; so, by the Constitution of this Charity, due Care is taken, that the Intentions of such well-disposed Persons, as shall contribute to any Branch of it, shall be punctually answer'd. For they may direct their Benefactions to be bestowed upon such Persons only, as are insected with the Natural SMALL-POX; or, if they judge the promoting INOCULATION the more beneficial, they may confine their Gifts thereto; or, if given without any Distinction, it will be applied to the general Fund, both for Natural SMALL-POX and for INOCULATION.

To

To these Considerations, it is proper to add one Circumstance, which, duly considered, cannot but have great Weight with all, who have any Feeling for their Fellow-Creatures in Distress; which is, that it is an HOSPITAL, in Aid of all other Hospitals, being calculated, by its very Constitution, to receive those miserable Creatures, whom the Rules of all other Charities expressly and prudentially exclude.

As this useful and necessary Charity loudly calls for further Assistance, may it not be justly hoped, that many pious and compassionate Hands will bountifully contribute to the Support, Continuance, and Enlargement of a Design, which Reason, good Policy, Humanity, and Religion so powerfully recommend?

Every Person destitute of Friends, or Money, and labour-Objects, ing under this melancholy Disease, or desirous of being inoculated, is a proper Object, being recommended by a Governor, or Subscriber, who is desired first to enquire if there is a Vacancy, to prevent the Danger and Expence of a Disappointment for Want of Room.—Patients in the Natural Way are received every Day, and those for INOCULATION, from the First of February to the last Day of May, and from the First of September to the Twentieth of December; of which publick Notice is given in the Daily Papers; and there is no Charge attending any Admission, except a Deposite of Sixteen Shillings from those in the Natural Way, to answer the Expences of Burial in case of Death, to be returned to the Person who paid the same, when discharg'd the HOSPITAL.

For fake of the Patients, and for fear of spreading this dangerous Infection, it is necessary to forbid Strangers to visit the Patients; and therefore hope that the Affection or Curiosity of particular Persons will not be offended at this unavoidable Precaution.

Such Persons who are inclined to savour this charitable Design, are desired to send their Subscriptions, or Benefactions, to Sir Joseph and Sir Thomas Hankey, Bankers in Fenchurch-Street; Mess.
